GOVERNOR CULVER ADDS AUDUBON COUNTY TO ICE STORM EMERGENCY PROCLAMATION

DES MOINES – Governor Chet Culver has added Audubon County to an emergency proclamation that allows state resources to be utilized in response to the ice storm that brought up to an inch of ice to the area earlier this week.

"Today, I traveled throughout the region, and saw first-hand the damage caused by this week's storm," said Governor Culver. "I want those affected to know that the state stands ready to assist, and return life to normal throughout the region."

The Governor's emergency declaration allows state resources to be deployed to local communities affected by the storm. In addition to Audubon County, Carroll, Cass, Crawford, and Sac Counties are covered by the Governor's emergency proclamation.
