GOVERNOR CULVER'S IOWA UNLIMITED MOVES THROUGH SOUTHERN IOWA TOMORROW

Train to promote investment in Iowa's rail network

DES MOINES – Governor Chet Culver's Iowa Unlimited is ready to roll once more, this time with stops throughout Southern Iowa tomorrow. Governor Culver will highlight the importance of investment in passenger and freight rail during stops in Creston, Osceola, Chariton, Albia, Ottumwa, Fairfield, and Mount Pleasant before concluding with an event in Burlington.

Traveling with the Governor tomorrow will be state transportation officials, advocates for rail investment, and community leaders. The southern Iowa trip will focus primarily on investment in Iowa's rail system, and how investment today will pay dividends in the future.

Governor Culver's Iowa Unlimited is being provided thanks to the generous efforts of the Burlington Northern Santa Fe Railroad.

Below is tomorrow's timetable for the Iowa Unlimited.
