Updated: Wed, Apr 08 2015, 11:29 PM EDT

CEDAR RAPIDS, IA (CBS2/FOX28) The Eastern Iowa Airport is now on the next step of its major renovation and upgrade project.

Airport officials tell CBS 2/FOX 28 News, crews this week started phase two of the project.

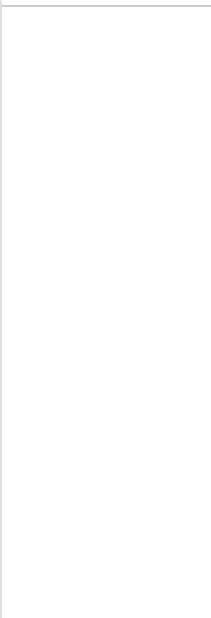

The second phase will include upgrades to the baggage area, and moving the rental care area, among other renovations.

Airport Director, Marty Lens says there will be a lot of visible changes during this phase, but it will be worth it.

"Very much exciting times and certainly we want to represent the community well here at the airport. So it is the first impression, last impression for a lot of visitors. So we're really excited about the years ahead and what the buildings going to look like," said Lens

The entire terminal project is expected to cost about $47 Million, and will not use any local tax money.
