ASBESTOS INSPECTOR CERTIFICATION TRAINING

April 8-10, 2009

Scheman Building, Iowa State University, Ames, Iowa

Visit us Online! www.ucs.iastate.edu/mnet/asbestos/home.html

Before renovation or demolition of a facility (an institutional, commercial, public or industrial installations or buildings including ships and active or inactive waste disposal sites) begins, a thorough asbestos inspection is required. The inspector must have thorough knowledge of asbestos, know sampling techniques and be familiar with all asbestos regulations.

Objectives: To assist city and county officials in being trained to conduct asbestos inspections on structures (bridges or buildings) that are slated for removal or rehabilitation, assess the condition of the suspect materials in the structure and collect bulk samples of the material for laboratory testing. This course is being offered as a direct result of the ICEA Special Schools Committee to meet the needs of the county engineer in bridge replacement and rehabilitation.

Intended Audience: Any and all county and city staff members who are assigned the work of assessing the asbestos presence potential in structures (roadway and buildings) that are subject to removal or rehabilitation. The course size is limited to 25.
