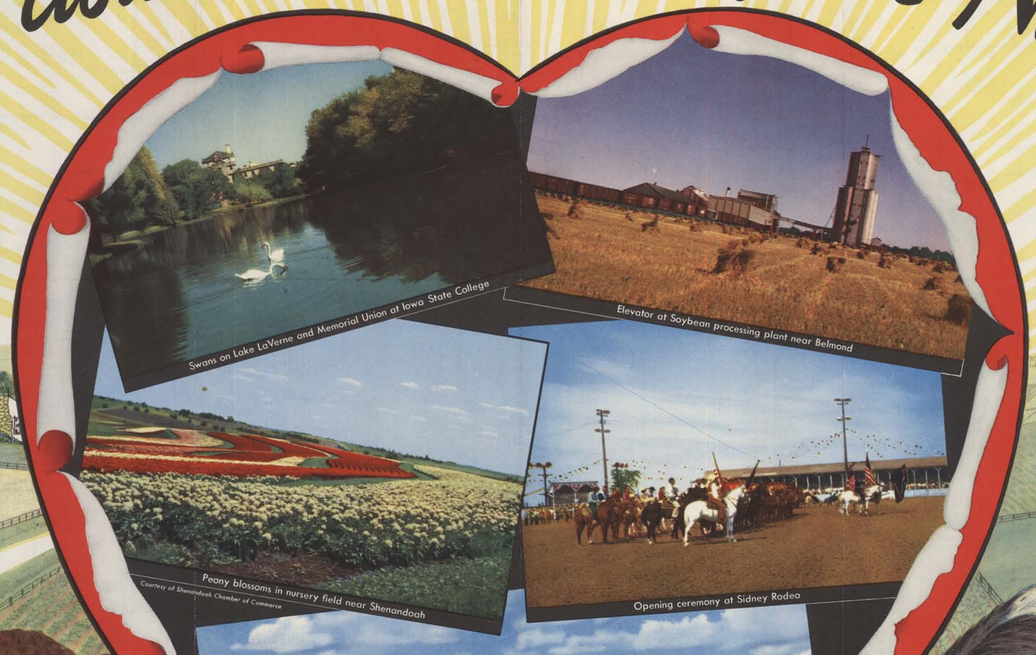
IOWA

The abundant heart of the Nation



In This State Called Iowa

If you're seeking scenic grandeur—mighty mountains capped with snow,
I'm afraid we'll disappoint you for we haven't one to show.
If you yearn for yawning chasms, if you seek a waterfall,
Stranger, we just can't produce them—we don't have such things at all.

When the Maker of Creation fashioned out this Hawkeye Land,
Mountains sheer and painted deserts didn't fit the task at hand.
He was building us a garden and for what He had in mind,
There must be abundant beauty, but of quite a different kind.

Have you seen a field of clover with its riot of red bloom?
You can duplicate those colors only with a magic loom.
Have you seen the silver ripples chase each other o'er the plain,
As the gentle summer breezes stir a field of ripening grain?

Have you seen a shimmering cornfield row on row in dress parade,
Dark green uniforms a-glitter, golden tassels for cockades?
Have you seen a herd of cattle grazing in some cool retreat,
Finding life quite to their liking, undisturbed by man's conceit?

In our peaceful land of plenty scenic grandeur won't be found,
But the beauty that we offer comes from deep within the ground.
Where the Greatest of all Chemists blending sunshine, soil and rain,
Through the ever changing seasons, makes the earth to bloom again.

POINTS OF INTEREST

A-5. Ocheyedan Mound. An Indian mound which is the highest point in Iowa, has an altitude of 1,670 feet, and rises 170 feet above the surrounding countryside.

D-18. Little Brown Church. Built in 1862, it is nearly hundred years old. Marriages are annually solemnized in this peaceful spot northeast of Nashua.

C-20. Little Cathedral. Seating capacity eight persons. Reportedly constructed by Johann Gaertner, a prisoner of the disastrous retreat made for his soldier under Napoleon, in grati- of the French Army from Moscow.

F-25. Old Shot Tower. Old stone shot tower in Dubuque, constructed in 1856, was used for molding lead shot. In 1865, when the lead industry was in its hey days, when the mill keeps River, it was important along the Mississippi as a watchtower.

G-25. New Melleray Abbey. Founded in 1849, this Trappist Monastery is the home of a group of monks living apart from the outside world. Large-scale farming is carried on during the hours not devoted to religious service.

G-26. St. Donatus. In 1850 Louis Dubuque built the village of St. Donatus along Bonny Bush Creek. Some of the homes of the original settlers from Luxem- bourg still remain.

I-23. Stone City. Locale of a number of Grant Wood paintings. The Iowa Art Colony during the summers of 1932 and 1933 worked here under Wood's supervision.

I-17. Tama Indian Reservation. Home of the Sac and Fox Indians. Annually, in mid-August, a four-day powwow is held, of which various Indian dances are a part. The public is admitted for a small charge.

J-K-20. Amana Colonies. In the fertile Iowa River valley between Cedar Rapids and Iowa City, lie the Amana Colonies, founded in 1855 by religious dissidents from Germany seeking freedom from persecution. Many customs of the original colon- ists still remain.

K-23. Birthplace of President Hoover. In the town of West Branch is the birthplace of President Herbert Hoover. The home, which is located in a small park, is open without charge, to visitors.

L-26. Credit Island. Now a city park, Credit Island was the location of an early trading post and site of a battle between troops of the United States and Great Britain fought on August 12, 1814.

R-22. Montrose. Site of one of the first permanent white settlements in Iowa. It was also the site of the first post, Fort Des Moines, which was estab- lished in 1834.

R-22. Site of first Iowa schoolhouse near Galland. A replica of Iowa's first schoolhouse stands a short distance from where the site of the original building was located when the Keokuk Dam was constructed.

Many other points of interest may be found through- out the State of Iowa. For additional information, write the Iowa State Highway Commission, Ames, Ia.

STATE PARKS

Eighty-six state-owned recreation areas, comprising more than 35,000 acres, are scattered throughout the state. They are so located as to serve the recre- ational needs of the greatest number of people, and their popularity is evidenced by the increasing number of visitors they entertain each year. These areas have been chosen for their scenic, historic or scientific values, and have been developed to preserve their natural characteristics.

The following partial list of these areas may aid you in locating the more important areas on the map. A more complete description of each area and the facilities it affords may be obtained by addressing a postcard request for information, to the Iowa State Conservation Commission, Jewett Building, 914 Grand Avenue, Des Moines, Iowa.
