All Iowans invited to attend to gain information about how the recently passed Economic Recovery Package can assist them.

Senator Tom Harkin, Governor Chet Culver and officials from the Iowa Office of Management will host a community meeting on Monday, April 27th at the Dallas Center-Grimes Community High School in Grimes from 8am until 1pm. The conference will offer participants information on the American Recovery and Reinvestment Act, also known as the Economic Recovery Package, in the following areas: federal and state grant information, energy, infrastructure improvements, aid to small business, housing improvements and workforce development. Participants can learn about grant opportunities both through the Economic Recovery Package and regular fiscal year programs.

"The recovery process has just begun and ensuring all Iowans know the opportunities available to them is an important step towards getting people back on their feet during these trying times," said Harkin. "The Economic Recovery Package provides jobs, improves health care, and sets us on a path towards energy independence, but these things can only happen if Iowans know how to access this funding."
